RESIDENT CORNER

Help our Community Celebrate Earth Day!

Every year on April 22nd people from across the globe join to celebrate our planet and raise awareness about ways to protect it. One of the things our residents love most is easy access to parks and open spaces. As citizens of Eastampton, what can you do to be good stewards of our planet? This year, the Eastampton Township Council is inviting students at our Community School to work with their classmates to create a poster that highlights the ways they can protect our local environment.

Contest Rules:

- The homeroom teacher's last name and the class's grade level should be displayed in the bottom right-hand corner of the poster. Do not include the last names of any students. (Poster designs must be appropriate for public posting.)
- Posters should highlight at least one action the students can take to help protect our local environment. Examples include: recycling, conserving resources, walking/biking, etc.
- The poster designs may be shared in the May edition of our community newsletter, on the Township website, and/or Township Facebook page.
- Residents will be asked to vote for their favorite design online.
- Voting will close on May 10th, 2024 and the winners will be announced shortly after.
- The top three classes will be awarded Amazon gift cards to assist with future lessons on the environment. First place wins $50. Second and third place each win $25.

STORMWATER CORNER

We need your help to reduce the following major pollutants in stormwater that are reaching our streams and creeks. Check out these tips to see what you can do to help prevent stormwater runoff and water pollution.

Oil and engine fluids - Oil and engine fluids left on roads and driveways are washed away during rain and flood events. These chemicals are highly toxic to aquatic plants and animals. It only takes four quarts, or about one oil change, of used motor oil to foul 1 million gallons of water. Fix leaks and absorb automotive fluid spills with kitty litter before sweeping the litter into the trash bin.

Soap and residues from car washing - When you wash your car in a driveway, dirty water and soap ends up in storm drains, bringing pollutants with it. Soap and vehicle residues can severely damage fragile aquatic ecosystems. Wash your car on the lawn or at a commercial car wash. If you don't have a grassy spot or a wash bay connected to sanitary sewer, the next best way to protect waterways is to redirect all that dirty water away from the storm drain where it can be absorbed into the ground. Choose biodegradable soaps by looking for the EPA Safer Choice label.

Litter - During storms, rainwater carries litter from our streets and sidewalks into storm drains, which lead directly to the nearest stream. Litter can be toxic as it breaks down and can suffocate turtles, birds and other aquatic life. Place trash and recyclables in the appropriate bins.

Pet waste - Pet waste can contain harmful bacteria or parasites that can last up to 10 years. If these organisms get into our stormwater, they can spread disease to wildlife, other pets, and even people. Scoop the poop in your yard and on walks with your pet.

Household hazardous wastes and products - Household hazardous wastes include leftover cooking oil, paint, batteries, drain openers, and much more. If these products are improperly used, stored, or disposed of, they can be released into stormwater and cause great environmental harm. Properly dispose of household hazardous waste on special collections at Gloucester County Improvement Authority.

Fertilizers - As rainwater flows across land, it picks up fertilizers and carries them to storm drains, which lead to the nearest stream. Nutrients from fertilizers feed algae blooms, which can make our lakes and ponds ugly and smelly. When the algae die and decompose, the oxygen level in the water drops, killing aquatic organisms. Test your soil before fertilizing and choose native plants that require less fertilizer to thrive.

Pesticides, herbicides and insecticides - These chemicals are designed to kill a variety of pests. During storms, rainwater washes these chemicals from plants and the soil and into the storm drains. When pesticides are released into the environment, they can kill or severely harm native plants, animals and insects. Use the least toxic pesticides and herbicides and follow label directions. Learn how to prevent pest problems and weed problems without pesticides and herbicides.

Yard waste - Throwing or blowing yard waste (leaves, tree branches, etc.) into the gutter or street adds to stormwater pollution and can clog storm drains, possibly increasing localized flooding. Compost, mulch leaves and grass clippings back into your lawn or bag yard waste for collection. Sweep driveways and sidewalks instead of hosing them down.

Soil erosion and sediment – Sediment is the loose sand and other soil particles that settle at the bottom of a body of water. Soil and sediment caused by erosion settles in storm drains and clogs them, possibly increasing localized flooding. Sediment that is carried through the storm drain destroys natural habitats in streams, prevents natural vegetation from growing and can kill aquatic organisms. Reduce sediment runoff by seeding bare spots.

Only rain down the drain – Remember that stormwater that enters the drain flows untreated into our local waterways. Never dump anything down storm drains or in streams. Direct downspouts away from paved surfaces; consider installing a rain barrel or rain garden to capture stormwater on your property. Treat pool water before draining and do not drain it directly into the street.

IMPROVEMENTS CORNER

American Asphalt Company, Inc. has been contracted by Eastampton Township for the 2023 Road Improvements Program to Willowbrook Way and various other roads including: Chestnut Drive, Cypress Drive and Redbud Court.

On or about May 6, 2024 concrete work will begin, followed by stormwater system upgrades, milling and paving. Work will take place during the hours of 7am-5pm. The contractor is responsible for notifying all residents within 48 hours prior to construction, and if construction is delayed a new notice will be given out.

During hours of construction, please be advised traffic will be limited. Thru traffic to all homes/businesses will be available, although there will be no direct parking in the designated construction areas. Please follow all signage while operating your vehicle, and use complete caution while walking and driving through all work areas.

The contractor is required by law to call for utility mark-outs prior to the start of construction. Property owners are strongly encouraged to notify American Asphalt Company, Inc. of any underground sprinkler systems, underground dog fencing or any other utility that may be unique to your property and not covered by utility mark-outs prior to the start of construction.

The anticipated date for project completion is 4-6 weeks. Please note all work will be done with weather permitting, and each day work is canceled due to weather will result in a delay to the schedule.

If you should have any questions please call the Township Engineer's Office, Environmental Resolutions Inc. at (856) 235-7170 or Frank Aquilante, American Asphalt Company, Inc. at (856) 456-2899. Your patience, understanding and cooperation is gratefully appreciated.
